

Accessibility & Vulnerable Policy

Fleur Telecom operates a culture of enhancement of customer satisfaction specific to the telecommunications industry. Our aim is to provide a personal, friendly approach to all of our customers.

In particular, we want to support additional support as required for any customer with any specific needs in relation to any accessibility or vulnerability they may be experiencing.

Fleur's classification of a 'vulnerable' customer is as follows: -

"Someone who is susceptible to additional risk of detriment, mis-selling and or unfair treatment due to personal circumstances which can change over time".

"Such circumstances can include age, physical location, income, bereavement and communications difficulties due to physical or learning disability and or physical or mental illness".

Fleur is committed to: -

1. Training staff to recognise where a customer may potentially be vulnerable, require additional support or have a specific need.
2. The support of any customer with any short; mid or longer term special needs
3. The development and implementation of any tools or process to support our customers with any physical, emotional or hardship needs
4. Implementing a staff culture of empathetic support for any vulnerable customers with any difficulty they may face in respect of their services provided by Fleur Telecom
